PRESS RELEASE

Com4IP CAN NOW BE USED AS AN ADD-IN TO OUTLOOK, LOTUS NOTES, GROUPWISE, OUTLOOK EXPRESS, HOTMAIL...

Amos September 9, 2004 - RDC Technologies, developer of the industry's first completely secure, unified communications software solution announces that Com4IP is now available as an add-in to Outlook, Lotus Notes, Groupwise, Outlook Express, Hotmail ... This development phase was essential in order to provide communications SECURITY to companies using the above mentioned softwares; softwares not known for their security when used on their own.

On the other hand, communications managed by Com4IP are forwarded to Internet in coded 448-bit (configurable) data packets, a security level superior to that used by banks.

Besides securing your communications, Com4IP simplifies them by integrating the most number of communication applications within a single, highly intuitive user interface. Furthermore, Com4IP allow increases in productivity, decreases in equipment cost and substantially reduces or eliminates inter-branch communication costs: an essential aspect of good company management.

Try it, free of charge, you will be convinced that this is a revolutionary product:
